FUND COMMENTARY

The recovery in risky assets that began in December 2018 continued apace in January. Fears of excessive monetary policy tightening by the US Federal Reserve have receded as the bank turned more dovish in its latest Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting. Benign inflationary pressures have afforded the policy makers some room to pause rate hikes while they assess the impact of their recent hikes on financial markets and the broader real economy. The bank's FOMC signalled flexibility with regards to future path of the fed funds rate and, most notably, the reduction of the size of the balance sheet. Interestingly, Fed Fund futures are now pricing in policy rate cuts in 2020. A gentler tone by the Fed, coupled with optimism around US/China trade negotiations triggered some risk seeking behaviour by market participants as the two biggest overhangs to risk sentiment in 2018 seem to have dissipated. These factors led to significant gains in most international equities markets with the S&P 500 having the best performing January since the late 1980's. Whilst caution remains front of mind, the significant drawback in global markets in December is not reflected in either the economic data or earnings published. We thus remain guardedly optimistic on global equity markets and whilst volatility is set to increase, with return expectations and targets being more difficult to meet, we remain positive in the equity space.

Contributors to performance: The Fund outperformed the MSCI World (excludes emerging markets) benchmark with a performance of 9.4% for the month, which was 1.6% above the benchmark index returns of 7.81%. Several of the high beta stocks held by the fund exhibited significant returns for the month of January ending the month firmly in the green and assisting in generating the excess return relative to the benchmark. Most notably Cellegene, which was up 38.02% in USD for the month. Other stocks pushing the trend were Facebook and Netflix (27.16%) and (20.45%) respectively.

Detractors from performance: Although most stocks experienced significant gains, several saw a reduction in their capital value as international markets weighed up the risk. This was reflected most notably in the share price of Verizon (-1.03%) and Abbvie (-11.81%).

Fund Specific Risks

Derivatives risk: The use of derivatives could increase overall risk by magnifying the effect of both gains and losses in a Fund. As such, large changes in value and potentially large financial losses could result.

Foreign Investment risk: Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations.

% Property risk: Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations.

Currency exchange risk: Changes in the relative values of individual currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income.

Geographic / Sector risk: For investments primarily concentrated in specific countries, geographical regions and/or industry sectors, their resulting value may decrease whilst portfolios more broadly invested might grow.

Equity investment risk: Value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g. bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company.

DISCLAIMER

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction cost is a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Where a current yield has been included for Funds that derive its income primarily from interest bearing income, the yield is a weighted average yield of all underlying interest bearing instruments as at the last day of the month. This yield is subject to change as market rates and underlying investments change.

The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party-named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut-off time, Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers, including actual initial and all ongoing fees, with income reinvested on the reinvestment date. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.
