

Investment Objective & Strategy

The WealthStrat Cautious Prescient Fund of Funds will aim to deliver high levels of income and capital stability. The manager shall have limited flexibility in terms of asset allocation and shall not be precluded from continually varying the underlying exposure to both local and offshore assets. The Fund will employ asset and limited geographical allocations to reflect changing economic and market conditions to maximise returns over the long term, the WealthStrat Cautious Prescient Fund of Funds will, apart from assets in liquid form, consist solely of participatory interest in Collective Investment Schemes which will invest in a diversified mix of assets, including but not limited to equities, property, preference shares, money market and fixed interest instruments. The equity allocation will be managed at a maximum effective exposure, including offshore equity, up to 40%. The underlying collective investment schemes are permitted to invest in listed and unlisted financial instruments in line with conditions as determined by legislation from time to time. The underlying portfolios will predominantly invest in South African markets but is however permitted to include investments in offshore jurisdictions subject to the investment conditions determined by legislation from time to time.

Quarterly Fund Commentary

Conservative investors generated decent returns in the third quarter of 2024, on the back of positive news surrounding the interest rate-cutting cycle, positive investor sentiment and the local risk-on environment. The higher starting yield on cash and short-dated nominal cash instruments continued to deliver a stable return profile, benefiting income-based and low equity portfolios. In addition, the strong returns recorded in local equities and longer duration instruments acted as a tailwind to performance this quarter.

The WealthStrat Cautious Prescient Fund of Funds returned +4.8% for the quarter and has generated a return of +15.9% over the past year.

The portfolio remains diversified in terms of its exposure to various asset classes, and we remain confident in its ability to deliver inflation-beating returns over the long term, independent of the market environment.

Asset Allocation

Local bonds make up the bulk of the asset allocation within the portfolio. This includes allocations to corporate, government and inflation-linked bonds. Short-dated nominal bonds held up well over the quarter and produced a stable performance, however, they lagged the performance of longer-duration peers. Longer-dated instruments ended the quarter higher as yields moved lower (and prices higher). Nominal bond yields benefited from moderating inflation, the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) beginning its rate-cutting cycle and improving investor sentiment following the elections. Local cash allocations continued to deliver positive returns this quarter. Local equities moved higher, driven largely by the Financial (+13.7%) and Industrial (+11.6%) sectors. Large banking and insurance counters produced double-digit returns on the back of general strength in the sector. Momentum (+28.7%), Discovery (+27.6%), OUTsurance Group (+25.0%) and Capitec (+18.0%) were among the best-performing counters in the sector over the quarter. S.A. Industrials (+11.6%) ended the quarter in positive territory, largely driven higher by "S.A. Inc" shares and in particular S.A. retailers, which rebounded strongly. Mr. Price (+34.4%), Foschini (+24.3%), Spar Group (+14.5%) and Shoprite (+5.7%) ended the quarter posting robust returns. In addition, index heavyweights Naspers (+17.6%) and Prosus (+16.2%) delivered strong returns on the back of the performance recorded by Tencent after the recent stimulus announcement in China. SA Resources (-1.5%) ended the quarter lower, dragged lower by Energy and Platinum shares including African Rainbow Minerals Ltd(-16.6%) and Sasol (-16.0%). Global equities produced strong returns this quarter with the strength in non-US stocks being a major development this quarter. The broad MSCI EAFE (developed markets excluding the US and Canada) Index gained 7.3%, ahead of the S&P 500's 5.9% return. Emerging Markets performed even better, advancing 8.7% in US dollar terms. China, the largest component of the Index, soared by 23.5% during the quarter, with most of this gain occurring in the quarter's final days following the announcement of stimulus measures by the Chinese government. Offshore bond and cash allocations contributed to performance on the back of the actions taken by the US Federal Reserve. The third quarter saw the first Fed rate cut in more than four years and global fixed income markets have reacted positively so far. However, the firmer rand acted as a headwind to the performance of offshore allocations. A small allocation to local listed property contributed to performance this quarter, benefitting from the recent positive sentiment, bringing its quarterly return to +18.7% and is the best-performing local asset class on a year-to-date basis. The fund's asset allocation is broadly similar to the previous quarter.

Fund Selection

The contribution from fund selection was mostly positive for the quarter.

Nedgroup Investments Core Bond delivered strong performance which was ahead of peers over the quarter. The fund's significant allocation to medium and long dated South African government bonds contributed positively to performance, as SA bonds delivered strong returns over the quarter. South African asset classes continue to react positively to the market friendly outcome of the SA election and the formation of the Government of National Unity (GNU). In addition, the announcement of the start of the SA interest rate cutting cycle, the continued stability in the electricity grid, and signs of improving consumer and business confidence were supportive of bond returns over the quarter.

Matrix SCI Stable Income delivered strong performance over the quarter, however, the fund lagged peers slightly. This is one of the more conservative SA fixed income offerings on Morningstar's buy list, with the fund limited in terms of its opportunity set to bonds which are highly liquid and have low credit risk. Contrary to peers, the fund has no exposure to property, equity and offshore assets. Despite delivering positive performance over the quarter, the fund's lower duration or interest rate risk and zero allocation to property detracted from performance, as property ended the quarter as the best performing local asset class.

Fairtree Equity Prescient produced a second-quartile performance, ending the quarter with a double-digit return. The fund outperformed the ASISA South African General Equity category over the quarter. Key contributors include the fund's exposure to Prosus (+16.2%) and Naspers (+17.6%) who were net beneficiaries of the rebound in China. In addition, the fund's exposure to Mr Price (+34.4%) contributed to performance, while, exposure to the basic materials and energy sector detracted from performance with Sasol (-16.0%) and Glencore (-4.1%) producing negative returns. The fund remains overweight cyclical (diversified mining, energy) and defensive (gold mining, global industrials) sectors.

There were no changes made to the underlying funds in the portfolio in the third quarter.

Summary

We are pleased that the portfolio managed to deliver a decent return over the third quarter in a strong local environment. The Portfolio continues to be allocated to a diverse range of attractively priced local and global asset classes and we are confident that it will be able to deliver on its investment objective over the long term. The fund has adhered to its policy objective.

Glossary

Annualised performance: Annualised performance shows longer term performance rescaled to a 1-year period. Annualised performance is the average return per year over the period. Actual annual figures are available to the investor on request.

Highest & Lowest return: The highest and lowest returns for any 1 year over the period since inception have been shown.

NAV: The net asset value represents the assets of a Fund less its liabilities.

Standard Deviation: The deviation of the return stream relative to its own average.

Max Drawdown: The maximum peak to trough loss suffered by the Fund since inception.

Max Gain: Largest increase in any single month

Fund Specific Risks

Default risk: The risk that the issuers of fixed income instruments may not be able to meet interest payments nor repay the money they have borrowed. The issuers credit quality is vital. The worse the credit quality, the greater the risk of default and therefore investment loss.

Derivatives risk: The use of derivatives could increase overall risk by magnifying the effect of both gains and losses in a Fund. As such, large changes in value and potentially large financial losses could result.

Developing Market (excluding SA) risk: Some of the countries invested in may have less developed legal, political, economic and/or other systems. These markets carry a higher risk of financial loss than those in countries generally regarded as being more developed.

Foreign Investment risk: Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations.

Interest rate risk: The value of fixed income investments (e.g. bonds) tends to be inversely related to interest and inflation rates. Hence their value decreases when interest rates and/or inflation rises.

Property risk: Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations.

Currency exchange risk: Changes in the relative values of individual currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income.

Geographic / Sector risk: For investments primarily concentrated in specific countries, geographical regions and/or industry sectors, their resulting value may decrease whilst portfolios more broadly invested might grow.

Derivative counterparty risk: A counterparty to a derivative transaction may experience a breakdown in meeting its obligations thereby leading to financial loss.

Liquidity risk: If there are insufficient buyers or sellers of particular investments, the result may lead to delays in trading and being able to make settlements, and/or large fluctuations in value. This may lead to larger financial losses than expected.

Equity investment risk: The value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g. bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

A Fund of Funds is a portfolio that invests in portfolios of collective investment schemes, which levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for these portfolios.

The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party-named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.

*The investment performance is for illustrative purposes only. The investment performance is calculated by taking the actual initial fees and all ongoing fees into account for the amount shown and income is reinvested on the reinvestment date.
