<sup>1</sup> The MSCI EAFE Index is an unmanaged, free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets, excluding the US and Canada. The MSCI EAFE Index (in CHF) reflects the return of the MSCI EAFE Index for a Swiss franc investor. The MSCI EAFE Index (Hedged to CHF) consists of the results of the MSCI EAFE Index, with its non-CHF exposure 100% hedged back into CHF, and accounts for interest rate differentials in forward currency exchange rates. Index results are inclusive of dividends and net of foreign withholding taxes.

The value of the Sub-Fund's shares and the return they generate can go down as well as up. They are affected by market volatility and by fluctuations in exchange rates. Upon redemption of shares in the Sub-Fund, investors may not receive the full amount invested. Past performance is no indication of future results. The performance data does not take account of any commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of shares. Current tax levels and reliefs may change. Depending on individual circumstances, this may affect investment returns. The breakdown into sectors and the individual investment items as well as indicated benchmarks are liable to change at any time in line with the investment policy. For additional information in relation to the risk factors, please carefully read the section "Certain Risk Factors" in the current legal prospectus.

Performance calculations are presented for Investor Shares.

COMMENTARY & MARKET OUTLOOK

After a brief market hiccup in mid-summer, the bull market in global equities continued its advance in the third quarter, buoyed by improving inflation data and growing conviction around the potential for a soft global economic landing. Returns were led in part by a rotation away from big tech stocks in the US to the more value-oriented, economically sensitive areas of the market. Smaller capitalization equities gained ground on their larger cap counterparts, and emerging markets also outperformed, led in part by strong returns in China following their adoption near the quarter's end of a well-received fiscal and monetary stimulus package. In this rather dynamic market environment, the Sub-Fund produced a positive absolute return of 0.62% for the quarter, versus 0.33% for the MSCI EAFE Index (Hedged to CHF) and 0.69% for the MSCI EAFE Index (in CHF).

Several new positions were added to the Sub-Fund during the quarter, including CVS, a UK-based company that has a growing portfolio of veterinary practices; Subaru, the iconically quirky Japanese car company; Sopra Steria, the consulting, digital, and software development services company; Koito, the Japanese manufacturer of lighting equipment for automobiles; and Kanadevia, a manufacturer and marketer of environmental equipment and facilities. At purchase, these companies were all trading at discounts to Tweedy's conservative estimates of intrinsic value, were financially strong, and had long runways of potential growth. In addition, we increased positions in Porsche, Shoei, Alten, and Taikisha during the quarter.

On the sell side, several positions in the Sub-Fund were sold or pared back in companies whose stock prices had either reached Tweedy's estimates of their intrinsic values or had been compromised in some way by declines in Tweedy's estimates of intrinsic values or future growth prospects. These included Baidu, LG Corp, LX Holdings, Nabtesco, Sealed Air, SCOR, Ubisoft, and Kronos, among others.

Portfolio positioning in the Sub-Fund remains as one would expect and reflects those areas of the world and parts of global equity markets where investors can still uncover some securities trading at discounts from conservative estimates of their respective intrinsic values. European equities continue to carry the largest weight in the portfolio. The same holds for the Sub-Fund's industrial, financial, and healthcare holdings. From a country perspective, the United States, Switzerland, Great Britain, and France, on a relative basis, carry considerable weight, and the Sub-Fund's Japanese exposure has been on the rise over the last several years, as has the portfolio's exposure to smaller and medium capitalization equities.

The rise of the big US technology "phoenix" from the ashes of its 2022 comeuppance has been nothing short of breathtaking. Bolstered by the prospects for a soft economic landing in which economic growth and the labor markets remain relatively strong while inflation is brought to heel and increasing excitement around all things AI-related, the S&P 500, led by a relatively small group of dominant technology companies, is up cumulatively over 65% for the last 24 months through September 30. The Dow Jones Industrial Average, which carries considerably less technology exposure, is up 53.6%. The MSCI World and EAFE Indices in US dollars are up 61.5% and 56.8%, respectively. All four are trading at, or very near, record highs. Unsurprisingly, popular equity market valuation barometers such as the "Buffett Indicator" and the Shiller Cape Index are also near all-time highs. In this undeniably ebullient market environment, Warren Buffett has accumulated a cash hoard approaching $300 billion and, according to recent reports, owns more Treasury Bills than the US Federal Reserve. With public and private debt at unprecedented levels, excluding wartime, and parts of the world on fire with conflicts that could possibly metastasize, one can't help but wonder if the market is missing something. Hard to know, but as we have written in previous commentaries, this is no time for investors to remain complacent. In fact, it's probably a good time for investors to pull out their dog-eared copy of Benjamin Graham's The Intelligent Investor and re-read Chapter 20, entitled "Margin of Safety."

The Sub-Fund is approved by FINMA for the offer to non-qualified investors in Switzerland, and are registered for public sale in Luxembourg, Germany, Italy (for professional investors only), South Africa and the United Kingdom. The Sub-Fund may not be publicly sold in any other jurisdiction and may not be offered or sold in the US. The details given on this page do not constitute an offer and are given for information purposes only. This document is intended for investors in South Africa only.

Investments should only be made after a thorough reading of the current legal prospectus, which contains details of investor rights, and the latest annual and semi-annual reports. The prospectus, KIDs and/or the KIIDs, and the annual and semi-annual reports are available in English on www.tweedysicav.com and www.fundinfo.com. The aforementioned documents as well as the articles of incorporation may also be obtained free of charge by making a written request to the Fund's Central Administrator, State Street Bank International GmbH at Shareholder Services, 49, avenue J.F. Kennedy, L-1855 Kirchberg, Luxembourg. // Lemanik Asset Management S.A. has been appointed the management company and global distributor of the Sub-Fund. The management company may decide to terminate the arrangements made for the marketing of its collective investment undertakings in accordance with Article 93a of Directive 2009/65/ED and Article 32a of Directive 2011/61/EU.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CISs are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Fund. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. The Sub-Fund may enter into forward exchange contracts for the purpose of hedging its perceived exposure to certain foreign currencies. The Sub-Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Sub-Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Sub-Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Sub-Fund and impacts Sub-Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Sub-Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks, and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all subscription documents must be received by State Street Bank International GmbH, Luxembourg Branch, and before investing. Subscription requests will be considered timely if received in good order no later than 12:00 noon Luxembourg time at least two Business Days prior to the desired Valuation Date. Shareholders whose requests for redemption are in order will have their Investor Shares redeemed on the Valuation Date next following receipt of the redemption request, Share certificates (if applicable) and all other necessary documentation, provided that such items are received by the Luxembourg Central Administrator at least ten Business Days prior to the relevant Valuation Date. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut-off time, State Street Bank International GmbH, Luxembourg Branch shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the Fund upon request.
