MARKET COMMENTARY

March was a challenging month for global markets, with risky assets and even safe havens bending under pressure as investors digested energy supply disruptions and sharply higher inflation expectations. The trigger was the escalation of the U.S.-Iran conflict, which began with joint U.S.-Israeli airstrikes on 28 February and rapidly triggered the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz — the transit point for roughly one-fifth of global oil supply. Brent crude surged 63.3% MoM from $72.48/bbl to $118.35/bbl, briefly approaching $120/bbl intra-month, repricing not just risk premiums but the entire near-term monetary policy outlook. Global equities (MSCI ACWI, -7.1% MoM) struggled broadly, though with some dispersion. U.S. equities held up better (S&P 500, -5.0% MoM; Nasdaq 100, -4.8% MoM), while European markets underperformed: the Stoxx 600 retreated 7.6% MoM and the FTSE 100 fell 6.2%, as softer economic data and increasingly hawkish central bank rhetoric weighed on sentiment. Asia, the largest importer of crude and refined products from Gulf states, was particularly weak. Japanese equities suffered sharp declines (Nikkei 225, -12.6% MoM), South Korea experienced the steepest regional fall (KOSPI, -19.1% MoM), and India also dropped significantly (Nifty 50, -11.3% MoM). Chinese markets fell to a lesser extent (CSI 300, -5.5% MoM; Hang Seng, -6.6% MoM), partly cushioned by large strategic oil reserves and alternative supply routes. As a result, emerging markets underperformed meaningfully (MSCI EMS, -13.0% MoM). The conventional safe-haven playbook broke down. Gold (LBMA, -12.0% MoM) sold off sharply and bond markets showed positive correlation to equities, offering limited diversification benefit. UK 10-year gilt yields rose 61 basis points to 4.92%, while Eurozone and US 10-year yields increased by approximately 35 basis points, reflecting markets' reassessment of how long policy rates may need to remain elevated. The U.S. dollar strengthened (DXY, +2.4% MoM), as expected. Shortly after the U.S. began military action against Iran, we moved swiftly to reduce risk: we closed our Mexico (iShares MSCI Mexico Capped UCITS ETF, -8.3% MoM) and European consumer discretionary positions, and reduced our Japanese exposure given the country's heavy dependence on energy imports. Finally, we took advantage of negative price action in the European defence sector to top up our exposure.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Annualised Volatility	Annualised volatility is a statistical measure of the magnitude of the historical daily (logarithmic) returns of the portfolio NAV, scaled to be representative of a full calendar year using a 256-day count. Only the NAV of trading days are used in calculating this measure.
Annualised Return	Annualised return is a measure which rescales returns, for periods greater than one year, to a 12-month geometric average return.
Best/Worst 12 Months	Respectively, the maximum and minimum % change in NAV Per Share over a 12-month period using daily performance data.
NAV Per Share	Net Asset Value (NAV) Per Share represents the total market value of the portfolio less liabilities and divided by the number of outstanding shares.
Positive / Negative Month(s)	A month is positive (negative) if the NAV Per Share, of a specific share class, increases (decreases) in value from the last day of the previous month to the last day of the following month.
Risk Indicator	The risk indicator for the Fund is set at 4 as this reflects the market risk arising from the proposed investments. The risk indicator is determined using historical data or, where historical data is not available, using simulated historical data. Historical data, such as is used in calculating the synthetic indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The risk category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time. A category 1 fund is not risk free; the risk of loss is small but the chance of making gains may also be limited. With a category 7 fund, the risk of losing money is high but so also is the possibility of making gains.

FUND SPECIFIC RISKS

Equity investment Risk: Value of equities (e.g., shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g., bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company.

Currency Risk: The change in price of one currency in relation to another. This is common where you invest using multiple currencies, either intentionally or not (i.e., underlying holdings of a UCITS would be un-intentional). Change in exchange rates may have an adverse effect on performance.

Geographic/Sector Risk: Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

Market Risk: The Fund is subject to market fluctuations and the risks inherent in all investments and there can be no assurance that an investment will retain its value or that appreciation will occur. The price of shares and the income from shares can go down as well as up and investors may not realize the value of their initial investment.

DISCLAIMER

The fund adhered to the policy objectives as stated in the Supplemental Deed in terms of allowed investments.

Any offering is made only pursuant to the relevant offering document, together with the current financial statements of the relevant sub-fund, and the relevant subscription application forms, all of which must be read in their entirety together with the Prospectus, Supplements and the KID. No offer to purchase shares will be made or accepted prior to receipt by the offeree of these documents, and the completion of all appropriate documentation. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption, and switch applications must be received by the Manager by or before 10h00 (Irish time) each business day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time, the Manager shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to and the application will be held over until the next Dealing Day. Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the risk so including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio ("TER") reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management and administration of the Fund. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year. These amounts may change without any notice although within the confines of the Fund Supplement.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investors performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.
